APPENDIX 3.2

IGLDP Activities in Ntaria

Schedule description of activities	An IGDLP Working Description	When, where, number of people...
Document the role, legitimacy and constraints of the Local Reference Group (LRG) and other community based organisations used by government for consultations such as the Housing Reference Group	Talk with people about the formal structures they have in Ntaria and how they assist (or inhibit) members of the community to have their concerns addressed	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Meetings, interviews</li> <li>• Various locations in the community</li> <li>• Total 75 people</li> <li>• A diverse range of conversations explored the role of existing groups, including those set up under government auspices as well as those set up within other organisations in the community.</li> </ul>
Working with community members to increase general understanding of principles of governance and leadership	Undertake conversations and more formal discussions of the topics ‘What is governance here and now?’ ‘What is leadership here and now?’	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Meetings, interviews</li> <li>• Various locations in the community</li> <li>• Total 81 people</li> <li>• This was the main topic of many of the discussions, enabling community members to talk about their understandings of governance and leadership and how they see it in terms of what goes on in Ntaria</li> </ul>
Facilitating more representative community groups and committees that are supported by traditional governance structures	Identify organisations that seem to be somewhat aligned to kinship system governance structure; become familiar with their working through respectful conversations	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Meetings, interviews</li> <li>• Various locations in the community</li> <li>• Total 63 people</li> <li>• Many people identify particular people and families as having particular roles in decision making in Ntaria, however there is reluctance to try to encode these in formal ways, perhaps because it obviates the need to do proper negotiation which people see as critical to good decision making.</li> </ul>
Working with community groups to co-ordinate and streamline existing groups and committees which may include amalgamating groups Providing technical training to individuals and community groups to increase capacity to engage with government	Catalyse conversations amongst community members on the active groups in their communities that are in some way concerned with general issues of community governance. Participate in these conversations by respectfully asking questions Be sensitive to the sorts of ‘technical’ capacities that community members need in order to be usefully engaged in community governance (e.g. setting up email accounts) and support community members in increasing their capacities	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Meetings, interviews</li> <li>• Total ~170 people (though I did not talk to all of them in the big community meeting)</li> <li>• People do not generally see their problems in trying to make a difference to be primarily an issue of training, though many recognise that this is an important element of their ability to take a more decisive role in leading change in their community. Of more concern is how people already working in governance and leadership positions can have their views respected and taken into consideration by outsiders, and how those people and agencies can work with them rather than what they identify as for other purposes.</li> </ul>

Schedule description of activities	An IGDLP Working Description	When, where, number of people...
Support community members to be actively involved in planning and implementation of services delivery	Catalyse discussions of what the phrase 'government services' means; ask for help in identifying what government services are delivered in the community and how. Were community members/leaders asked how they would like to communicate with government on matters relating to service delivery or influence the way services are delivered?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Meetings, interviews</li> <li>• Various locations in the community</li> <li>• Total 63 people</li> <li>• People are interested to different levels as to how government influences their lives. Some are frustrated with their lack of ability to hold the government to account while others have little or no interest. The main thing to emerge late in the project was how the LIP offered a way for both community members and government to work together and to see what each was responsible for. Essentially it was something around which people could negotiate and track what was going on</li> </ul>
Provide mentoring and coaching to emerging community leaders	Identify potential leaders; discern if possible the constituencies that this leader is coming to represent; discuss ways that leaders and their constituencies might interact respectfully.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Meetings, interviews</li> <li>• Total 12 people</li> <li>• A small number of meetings with younger people who are actively engaged in community issues. Many of these people are from Traditional Owner families who have been active in local politics for many years. There is interest among these people of taking a more active role, but there is also the awareness that they must wait their turn and not be seen to be trying to get ahead of themselves</li> </ul>
